

When does my business need to hire an IT company? 3 Top Signs

Once you expand past a few departments, your digital network will likely expand beyond your capacity to manage in-house as well. Here are a few tips to answer the question, "When does my business need to hire an IT company?"

Is Your Network Your Bottleneck?

If you lose revenue or go off schedule because of a technical problem, then it is time to get an IT company on your side. Nothing makes a customer switch companies more quickly than a 404 screen.

Does Your Growth Overload Your Network?

Seasonal spikes or customer response to a huge fire-sale is one thing, but if you consistently experience hiccups in your system due to volume of sales, then you are ready for an outside IT company. Do not let your growth stifle your growth. Yes, you read that correctly, and it happens frequently when companies try to take on network expansion in-house.

Is Your Competition Outpacing You?

You can do everything right, but if you are missing a critical piece of technology, then your competition will simply outclass you. As technology improves at an accelerated rate, the line between your company and your customers becomes thinner and thinner. Stay on the cutting edge of technology through a partnership with a professional team that will upgrade your systems automatically.

Please contact us when you are ready to upgrade your networking into the professional space. We specialize in small and medium-sized businesses that are just moving into a growth space. We have experience navigating companies just like yours through growing pains!

Combined Systems Technology

800-944-2966 515-270-5300

www.cstoncall.com info@cstoncall.com